CANNONADING IN PROGRESS IN HARBOR DISTRICT

Four Fleet of Transport Ships Sighted in Black Sea—Destroyers Accompanying Lombard Varna—French Submarine Hunt by Turks—Bulgarian Artillery Bombards Outer Forts at Nish—Results Still Indefinite.

United Press Service
BERLIN, Nov. 1.—Soda dispatches state that Bulgarian artillery is bombarding outer Nish forts. Constantinople and Turkish guns sunk the French submarine Turquoise off Ansharia Sunday.

United Press Service
PARIS, Nov. 1.—It is announced that in the vicinity of Isib, the Bulgarians are progressing and the Serbs are withdrawing without fighting. An artillery duel in the Babrovo district is in progress, but the results are still indefinite. There is heavy cannonading from Kirovak to Veles.

United Press Service
BUCHAREST, Nov. 1.—It has been learned that the Russian transport fleet was sighted in the Black Sea Sunday. Destroyers are escorting the transport ships.

On approaching Varna the transports fell behind and the warships bombarded the port.

The progress the Bulgarians have made is most plainly indicated by the report that they are bombarding the outer fortresses of Nish, one of the railway centers and chief cities of Serbia. If Nish is taken, as is likely from present indications, the Bulgarians will be able to more successfully block the march of the allies through Serbia into Bulgaria, and finally into Turkey to checkmate the huge Teutonic movement.

LAST FOOTBALL GAME TOMORROW

KLAMATH STACKS UP AGAINST MEDFORD IN LAST BIG GAME OF SEASON—DRAFTSMEN EXPECTS CLOSE GAME

Tomorrow the Klamath boys meet Medford in the last big football game of the year. The clash will occur at the Medford gridiron, and according to local dopsters, it's going to be some clash.

The reasons they think so are as follows: Medford beat Klamath 12 to 6, or by twelve points. Ashland beat Klamath 26 to 0 in the first game. The Klamath boys improved so much in the week that in spite of alien grounds, in spite of the fact that the boys played on just recovering from a serious attack of diphtheria poisoning, they held Ashland 14 to 0. The difference between 26 and 14 is twelve, so figuring from competitive scores, Klamath Falls ought to play Medford a 0-to-6 game.

But competitive scores never did work out, and anything from an overwhelming victory to an overwhelming defeat is expected for Klamath in tomorrow's game. One thing is certain—if the team had a few of the good men that were left behind for various reasons, their chances would be much better.

Basketball and debate will be the headlines in high school activities after Tuesday.

TWILIGHT SLEEP USED ON HOUND

SHERLOCK, POLICE DOG, UNDERGOES OPERATION—STRANGE ANESTHETIC WILL BE AID TO VETERINARY SURGEONS

United Press Service
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Sherlock, terror to fleeing burglars, and one of the most efficient police dogs on the canine staff of the New York police department, submitted quietly to a painful operation a few days ago under the new "twilight sleep" method. Sherlock never whimpered or showed a disposition to bite, although he was not unconscious.

Sherlock suffered a bruise on his ear while chasing a burglar about a month ago, which developed into so bad a case that the dog, valued at $1,000, seemed unfit for further service. The operation, according to Dr. Alfred Oberie of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who performed it, appears to be highly successful, and Sherlock will be back on duty in a few weeks.

This is not the first time "twilight sleep" has been used on animals by the society. Horses, dogs and cats alike submit quietly to major operations without having their vitality impaired by the usual anesthesia. Dr. Oberie is convinced that "twilight sleep" will be of considerable benefit to veterinary surgery.

ALL QUIET ON HALLOWE'EN EVE

ST. JOHN'S MYSTIC NIGHT PASSED WITH LITTLE VANDALISM. WINDOW WRITING WITH SOAP ONLY REMINDER OF OLD WAYS

Hallowe'en night was observed with little vandalism last night. Few gates were stolen, and other than the decoration of every window on Main street with soap, the time-honored custom of making other people trouble on Hallowe'en evening has been dropped.

Only the last few years has seen the decay of Hallowe'en vandalism. The custom dates back to ancient English times, when the people still believed in ghosts, spirits, etc., that were supposed to move abroad on this most mystical of all nights, All Saints or All-hallowe'en. The mischievous spirits of the old English towns, more skeptical as to ghosts, etc., would start forth on this night and turn everything topsy-turvy, so as to make the stolid town-folk believe they had had a spirit visitation.

In Klamath Falls, as well as other sections, Hallowe'en parties and masquerades were held to observe the mystic season.

FIGHT FOR LIFE STILL CONTINUES

LITTLE SON OF AGENT MAY UNDERGOES SECOND OPERATION. CHANCE SLIM, BUT BABE IS BETTER TODAY

The little son of Agent May of Chilcoquin still continues his fight for life at the hospital. Yesterday he was somewhat better, but the chance for the baby's life is very small today. Dr. Hamilton, who has the case in charge, still hopes that he will recover.

The first operation took place Friday. The baby became sick Wednesday, and for the first two days home remedies were used. Friday, when the child was brought to the hospital he was dying of peritonitis, the poisonous secretions from which had poisoned his entire system. One slim chance for his life remained—a difficult operation.

The appendix was removed during the first operation, and the work of draining commenced. Saturday night occurred a second operation, in which the poisons were further drained away, with the result that the 3-year-old child has at least a fighting chance for recovery.

KLAMATH BOOTH TO REMAIN OPEN

WORK OF ADVERTISING THIS SECTION TO CONTINUE DURING LAST MONTH OF FAIR, ALTHOUGH SINNOTT RETURNS

Although Phil Sinnott, Klamath Falls in a few days, the Klamath booth will still remain open. Sinnott is returning to save the county his salary for the last month of the fair, but according to present plans the work of advertising this section at the exposition will still continue.

The method will be to have various Klamath county men who are visiting the fair this month devote part of their time gratis, or nearly so, in taking charge of the booth, arranging exhibits, etc.

At present two Klamath boosters are at the fair who are willing to act as temporary representatives. They are Will Lee and Cale Oliver. Both have Klamath statistics at their tongues' end, and are prepared to carry on the work in a creditable fashion.

According to fair visitors, the Klamath booth is better than ever. The big bass has arrived, and with the other titanic vegetables, grain displays, etc., there is much to interest prospective citizens of this county.

KLAMATH FUTURE DEPENDS ON CLUB

SUCCESS OF MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN WILL DETERMINE WHETHER RAILWAY AND FACTORY PROJECTS ARE A GO

According to officials of the Commercial Club, all future projects, the development of railway facilities, and the half-million monthly payroll for Klamath Falls, all depend on the success of the membership campaign that is just beginning. According to present indications the campaign will be a success, as several new names have already been secured.

"We must have united effort," said L. Jacobs today. "Other sections have learned that to procure any great good for the community, all the business men must work co-operatively. Portland has learned this, and since the good railway news, Klamath Falls is beginning to know it, as co-operation, and nothing else, drew up those railway plans.

"If all the citizens get together behind these big projects, we can complete them. Our only organ is a large and efficient Commercial Club. That is what we are after. Committees are being appointed to carry on the campaign.

SUNDAY CLOSE OF DEER SEASON

HUNTERS BEGINNING TO RETURN FROM HILLS AFTER SUCCESSFUL HUNT. WATER FOWL ARE ONLY GAME NOW

Hunters are beginning to come in as a result of the close of the deer season yesterday. Many of them have venison, in spite of the fact that the dry fall has made the woods so dry that stalking was difficult.

According to hunters the deer were unusually plentiful this year—probably as the result of the animals coming down from the higher ranges to the lower levels. The deer were especially plentiful, due to the protection granted them the last four or five years.

Military Training Will Prevent Business Failure

United Press Service

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 1.—Young Americans become failures or misfits very often because they have no conception of subordination, says Adjutant General Thomas in a statement today, defending the establishment of military training in the public schools. Military training, he says, teaches subordination, and it puts into effect systematically will reduce the number of misfits or failures.

To emphasize his argument Thomas says: "A large majority of young men of the United States spend the best portion of the first ten years of their lives after quitting school looking for jobs. He starts in on a new job with vim and vigor, but wants to do it his own way, irrespective of the desires of his employer. When his employer attempts to regulate his actions, he becomes peevish and ends by saying, 'If you don't like my style, you'd better get somebody else.' Thus, at 25 he finds himself forced to accept a small salary in a small job in which he spends the remainder of his days, a failure or a misfit.

"Military training teaches the young man the necessity of prompt obedience to the orders of his superior, irrespective of his like or dislike for that superior or for the way that superior issues his orders. In short, military training teaches the young man how to hold his job. It impresses him with the solemn duties and obligations as well as the great rights enjoyed in a free country, and fits him for the proper performance of his duty."

VILLISTAS MAKE DESPERATE STAND AT AGUA PRIETA

HURL AGAINST CITY—RECRUITS COMING

Dynamite Explosion Blows to Atoms Fifty of Villa Detachment—Field Pieces and Machine Guns Ready for Last Clash—General Funston in En Route to Douglas—Landing Would Have Race Prejudice Allayed.

United Press Service

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 1.—The Villistas and the Carranza outposts clashed a mile from Agua Prieta at noon. The main Villa army is hurling against the city, and are advancing rapidly.

Refugees from Agua Prieta are streaming across the border. Fifteen field pieces and sixty machine guns were conducted by the Villistas on this morning's train to Agua Prieta, and scouts from the Carranza trenches saw them being dragged into position.

The main Villa army camped last night six miles east of Agua Prieta. Three thousand Villistas, comprising the commands of Generals Urbalajo and Mendez, are expected this afternoon from Naco.

United Press Service

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 1.—It was learned today that fifty men and twelve horses were blown to pieces and forty men mangled when a Villa detachment was blown up by a dynamite charge in Colonia, sixty-five miles southeast of here recently.

United Press Service

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Nov. 1.—The Carranza special train left Monclova for Pedras Negras. Carranza spent Sunday in Cuatro, his birthplace. Obregon and his staff joined Carranza in Monclova.

The placing of cannon, the movement of troops from the south, all seem to indicate that Villa will throw all that is left of his decaying strength into this last battle with the Carranzas that will take place this afternoon or tomorrow.

Villa knows that this is his last chance—if he is defeated now he will no longer be a power to reckon with in Mexico. The next few hours will decide whether Mexico will have settled order under a Carranza regime, or whether Villa is strong enough to carry on the civil war.

United Press Service

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1.—General Funston is en route to Douglas, accompanied by Major Hay, chief of staff. He will arrive Tuesday.
